Volume XXIV

Highlights of '61

"Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away..."

Thus, it has been our aim in this,
our fortieth year,
to portray something of Jones Valley's spirit,
loyalty,
and warmth through words and pictures.

Highlights in Scholarship

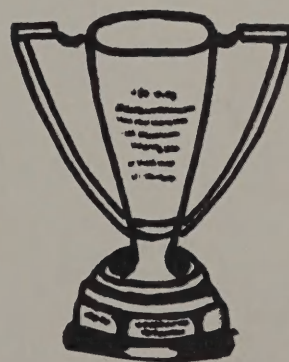

Sara Vandiver

Martha Shaw

On the basis of four years of excellent scholarship, Sara has been named valedictorian, and Martha salutatorian of the '61 class. Sara ranks first in a class of one hundred twelve students. Martha, a close runner-up, ranks second. Both are members of the National Honor Society.

Sportsmanship of a school is no stronger than the sportsmanship of every individual in that school. It begins with courtesy and fair play among individuals at home, in classrooms, halls, and playing fields, and is thus judged by the public. Charles Wood, student body president, proudly accepts the Sportsmanship trophy which is awarded each year to the school exhibiting the best sportsmanship during the preceding year.

Dedication

For her years of dedicated service as a classroom teacher, for her unwillingness to accept anything but the best in both learning and behavior from her students, and for her loyalty and devotion to Jones Valley High School, we, the staff of the 1961 BROWNIE, lovingly dedicate this annual to

MISS OCTAVIA JAXON.

Curriculum

English 8 students learn to scan poetry. Sara Vandiver and Larry Hardin are assisted by Miss Carns.

"Is This a Dagger I See Before Me?" "Hold This Knife, Brutus!"

Speaking correct English is as important as writing it correctly.

Oral reports given in English classes help students to gain poise. Ronnie Nabors, senior class president, finds this to be true as he thanks the Home Economics Department for the Senior Tea.

Habla usted espanol? Como se llama? Spanish students can answer these questions. Spanish has been taught at Jones Valley for 33 years. Emphasis has been recently placed on foreign languages by our federal government. The proximity of Spanish-speaking countries emphasizes the need for Spanish in this area.

Eighty Students Study Languages

French has been taught at Jones Valley for six years. The use of a tape recorder helps students with pronunciation and accent. Exercises through the medium of the record player give experience in oral dictation.

Chemistry is offered at Jones Valley to fifth and seventh semester students who learn the basic fundamentals of this science. As a result of good instruction given to them at Jones Valley, many students are qualified to continue their interest in chemistry in college.

Press on, It's Later Than You Think!

(L-R): Mr. Clements, instructor; Larry Hardin, James McCutcheon, Jimmy Tyson, Lucky Barnett, and Mike Robinson learn all about weights, measures, and the metric system, fundamentals so very important in the study of Science 7.

Interest in all phases of science is encouraged and promoted at Jones Valley. General science, biology, chemistry, and physics are offered to students who wish a full four-year program of science.

Dennis Duke, Dale Sellers, Gary Jacquin, and Willie Vines, members of the Science Club, are awed by the automatic trouble finder in a Direct Distant Dialing System shown to them by a representative of Southern Bell.

Biology Students — "Man, This Bugs Me"

Future Secretaries Find Accuracy Counts

Bookkeeping students frequently hear these comments by Miss Liner. "Books balanced?" "Can you journalize?" and "We will have a work sheet on the test tomorrow."

"Dear Sir:" is a very familiar phrase to all steno students. First year students are required to reach a speed of sixty words a minute by the end of the year.

"One hundred words a minute!" "Who, me?" ask these Typing III students, Barbara Gann, Betty Burgess, and Betty Gray.

Not only is cooking a vital part in the study of home economics, but sewing as well. Home economics students at Jones Valley are required to take one semester of cooking and one of sewing.

Contrary to common belief, mechanical drawing is a difficult subject. The serious expressions on these students' faces prove this fact.

Diane Koenig Named Future Homemaker

Art Students Win Recognition

Ah, such sweet music that drifts from the music room! Music students, with Mrs. Scruggs accompanying, are practicing for the Christmas assembly program.

Our Art Department has won special recognition several times this year. Art students have won $250 in city-wide contests for their outstanding window paintings done at a suburban shopping center. These art students analyze some of their work.

Mary Ezell and Brenda Bush find that speech can be interesting and helpful. Speech students have presented several amusing plays in assembly.

Civil War Centennial Sparks Interest

Did you know Napoleon was exiled to Corsica and Reykjavik is the capital of Iceland? Students taking World History know these things.

Public speaking, summarizing, and outlining come easy for Jones Valley's history students. Realizing that speaking before groups is very important, history instructors make it a part of everyday classroom activity.

"Ah gee, Coach, do we have to take exercises first?" "Why can't we play some basketball?" This is the daily complaint of boys in physical education classes.

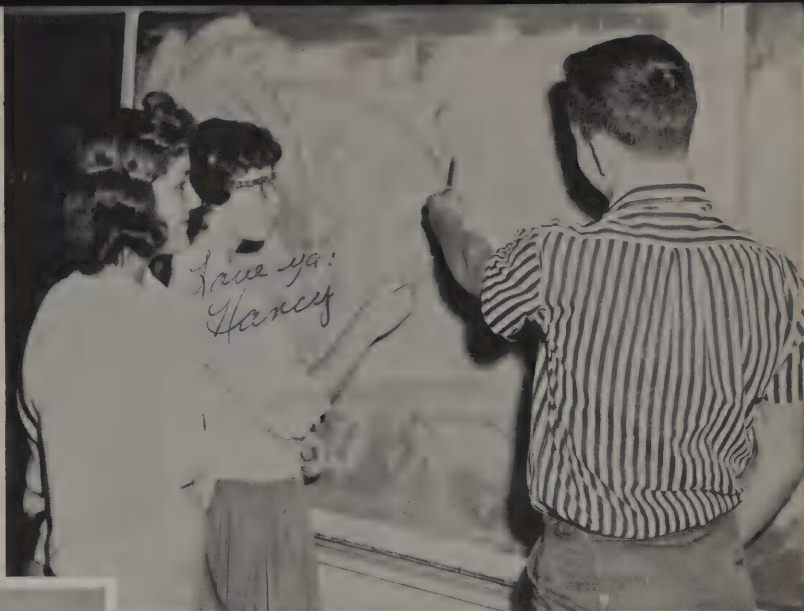

Physical fitness of every student is the major concern of the physical education teachers.

Brains + Brawn Does Not = B.B.

Volleyball Tournaments call for quick thinking and action, and are a highlight of the year. Girls develop physically, and learn good sportsmanship and fair play.

Jimmy Owens shows June Burnette and Nancy Dishen how to factor some algebra problems.

These students find the answer to many everyday problems they would encounter in business, such as fractions, percentages, and interest rates.

J.V. Prepares Students for Higher Math

In their study of plane geometry, Judy Carter, Kenny Tatum, and Robert Hamilton find that the proper use of a compass is very important.

Library Boasts 8477 Books.

That's right! This year the library added 300 volumes to its stock of 8177 books. Jones Valley can be justly proud of its library. Over the years students have seen the library grow from a few hundred books in a small cramped room to the large and well-equipped room it now occupies.

The library is not just for the research worker. It also has a slide projector, a movie projector, and a tape recorder which the teachers can check out to use in their classrooms to make their subjects more interesting and informative.

Projects sponsored by the Student Council this year include selling Jones Valley pennants, publishing the student directory, and participating in Sportsmanship programs. The Council plans to place on the lawn a marker bearing the school's name.

National Honor Society has as its objectives the development of Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service. Members are chosen by the faculty by secret ballot from the upper 25 per cent of sixth and seventh semester students. The four objectives are used as guides in their selection.

Our Honor Society operates the supply store as one of its projects. It also encourages students to maintain high scholastic standards.

"GOLDEN 100"

"The Jones Valley High School Band called the 'Golden 100' is now about to take the field!" This is the introduction the band received during football season this year. One hundred proud and musically talented students worked together to produce some of the best half time shows seen on any football field, high school or college. Jones Valley is rated as one of the top three bands in Alabama by the national band yearbook, First Chair of America. We were also honored again this year to be asked to play at the annual Christmas Festival in Birmingham.

For nine years Mr. John Davis has been band director at Jones Valley. He plays French Horn with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra. He has been responsible for the many honors won by the band since he has been at Jones Valley.

FLUTES

The flute is one of the oldest and most beautiful of all the orchestral instruments.

Flutes were used during the half-time shows at our football games this year, and will be played in our concert band by (L-R) Donna Yessick, Judy Howard, Susanne MacDonald, Louise Arthur, Ann Baggett, and Don Noel.

MISCELLANEOUS

These instruments and their players are so few in number that they are grouped in one section. They are (L-R) Allen Keith, Bass Clarinet; Joan Rickles and Don Hampton, Bassoon; Kenny Craft, Contra Bass Clarinet; Ricky Satterwhite, Oboe; Jackie Shields, Bass Clarinet.

BASSES

Mack Shrove, Willard Brooks, and Mike Childs play the big bass horns in our band.

Band Visits University of Georgia

SAXOPHONES

Darrell Elliot, Linda Dailey, Mary Marcum, Jimmy Rittman, Emery Rosser, Eddy McCluskey, Don Hawkins, Cecil Kuykendall, Martha Shaw, and Cynthia Causey.

BAND OFFICERS

Band officers for 1960-61 are: Cecil Kuykendall, Social Chairman; Buck Williams, President; Tommy Dameron, Vice-President; and Don Noel, Drum Major.

TRUMPETS

When most people think of a band they think of the trumpet. Our trumpets are (kneeling) Jim Webb, Sue Colburn, John Fuller, Don Yeager, Leroy Allen, Elaine Vincent. (standing) Jim Kendricks, John Torliert, Ray Vincent, Steve Ham, Dickie Mitchell, Steve Fant, Larry Turner, and Douglas Noel.

HORNS

The horn has been played this year in our band by L-R: Joan Trader, Judy Liles, Sherry Clowdus, Sherry Eady, Jane Fraser, Billy Wallace, Laverne Dameron.

TROMBONES

Our trombone players offered a lot of support to our band this year. They are (first row) Richard Griffin, Bobby Wilks, Tommy Dameron, (second row) Jerome Gage, Paul Stokes, (third row) Mike and Wayne Watson.

Nine Bandsmen Make All-State

Although the drum has few parts written for it in the concert band or orchestra, it is the heart of the marching band. Few people realize the hard work that the drum player does during this time of year.

FLAG BATONS

FLAG SECTION

Flag bearers that precede our band down the field are Sandra Ballard, Nancy Hopper, Elizabeth Smith, and Linda Gillis.

BARITONES

Second to the bass horn in size in the marching band is the baritone. Our baritone players are (L-R): Kenneth Copeland, Bernard Bostic, Robert Hamilton, and Dan Morse.

CLARINETS

The clarinet is one of the best known of all the band instruments. This fact accounts for such a large section. The players are (kneeling) Janice Ham, Charles Bell, Mike Willingham, Martha Shaw, Alice McKinney, Judy Allen. (standing) Dianna Brown, Joe Santoro, Janell Wallace, Martha Park, Billie Ruth Syphures, Annette Stone, Andy Smith, Melissa Kirkley, Linda Richards, Jimmy Fuller, and Janice Woods.

A snapshot taken at one of our ball games this year shows the band during half time performance, with a fire baton routine by our majorette section.

The photographs in this annual were made by Graf's Studio, Bessemer.

While Charles tries to get our books to balance, Don stamps pictures, Bill checks the allotted pages for his section, and Mrs. Ferguson helps someone lay out his section.

One has to work with the staff in order to appreciate all the thought and preparation that goes into publishing an annual. We attempted to cover all phases of the school year.

Brownie Staff

Ricky and Tommy spent a great deal of time identifying the pictures for their sections.

"How do you spell Kiedinger?" "Can you abbreviate assistant?" "What can I do? Nobody knows this girl." "Hey, that's my sister!" Such conversation is everyday occurrence in annual staff.

When Is the Next Deadline?

These people worked hard for the annual. Joe Edd laid out the curriculum section and helped think up headlines. Tommy planned the art work, and Jimmy took many of our pictures. Ronnie planned the sports section.

Highlights of Spring

Baccalaureate Services

"What kind of character does your mirror reveal?" was the question asked of seniors in the Baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. S. A. Balch at Brookhaven Methodist Church at 3:00 p. m., on May 28, 1961.

Rev. Balch issued a challenge for seniors to study themselves in God's mirror, and thus, like Isaiah the prophet, become fit for service in God's kingdom.

Oh Happy Day!

Above:
Mike Childs, Eva Nunnelley and Willard Brooks grasp that precious piece of parchment that officially signifies the end of their stay at ole J. V.

Annette and Janette Stone and Sue Stovall climb the steps at Brookhaven on Sunday, May 28th,
for Baccalaureate Services.

Class Day . . . 1961

Class Day exercises were conducted by Susan Eady, devotional; Marcia Morrow, historian; Jackie Nichols, statistician; Billy Parker, prophet; Ronnie Nabors, president; Charles Wood, lawyer.

Exchange Club Trophy was presented to Larry Robinson, who was chosen by his class as the most outstanding member of the Class of '61.

Fun at Kiddieland

On Friday night, May 26, at Kiddieland Park, seniors were entertained at an ice cream party given by Miss Carns, Mrs. Driggers, Miss Jaxon, Mrs. Parker, and Mrs. Waldrop. Even Mr. Vandiver got in the act as cones were being dipped by the hundreds.

The proper way to eat ice cream is demonstrated by Freida Payne and Thomasine Langley as Barbara Blackwell, Doris Arthur, and Mary Hall urge them to hurry and finish so they can ride the "Mad Mouse."

Ice cream parties are "fun, fun, fun time" as far as Charlotte Smith is concerned. The ice cream was delicious, and to use an old expression, "a good time was had by all," although some found that ice cream and upside-down rides do not mix very well.

April 28 was a memorable highlight of the spring term, for it was the night of the Junior-Senior Prom. Leading the prom at Cascade Plunge are, left to right: Sue Stovall, Senior Class Secretary, escorted by Robert Cox; Jackie Bragg and Senior Class President, Ronnie Nabors; Shirley Hudson and Senior Class Treasurer, Cecil Bradberry.

Judy Colvert and Tommy Farley enter the Cloud Room looking forward to a memorable evening.

Judy Wilson and Hobart Shaw seem to be in heaven as they dance
"cheek to cheek" to the music of
Bill Nappi.

Prom Theme Is "Sayonara"

Mrs. Burgess and Jackie graciously agreed to prepare and serve refreshments to guests.
Mr. W. E. Morrow, Ronnie Nabors, and Jackie Naugher enjoy fruit punch and cookies.

"Like let's make with the music," says Charles Miller as he persuades
 Peggy Strickland that she is dying to dance.

Mary Reaves and Larry Jones find time between dances to enjoy refreshments.

On the basis of a penny a vote, Patsy Blakey and Tommy Dotson were named King and Queen at the Black and Gold Game on March 31. Proceeds from this intramural game are used to improve the football field.

Dianna Brown, our head majorette, is shown with several trophies she has won as a majorette. She recently won first place in the city baton-twirling contest.

Jackie Bragg, varsity cheerleader, was elected by popular vote to serve as president of the Y-Teen Council for the entire city.

Annuals Are Back!

Glad confusion and high excitement are everywhere on the day annuals come back. Jimmy Whitten, Wayne Bailey, and Bobby Gardiner compare notes on the sports section.

Although annual covers were scarce, Lucky Barnette manages to confiscate one.

Nathan Chase waits impatiently for his name to be checked off the list in order that he may get his yearbook.

J. V.'s Talent Is Featured

"Easter in Many Lands" was the theme of the annual Easter program presented by all the Y-Teen Clubs.

"The Four Stooges" keep things rocking at our band-sponsored Variety Show this spring. Below, the Civitan Club members give their interpretation of the Academy Awards. Here, Ima Bandbooster accepts her award.

Science Fair

Mack Shrove examines one of the projects entered in our Science Fair at J. V. this year. The fair was again sponsored by the Science Club. As a result of the interest the club has sparked here, sixty-one of the Jones Valley projects went on to the Regional Science Fair at the Alabama State Fair Grounds.

Judy Carter, a chemistry student, explains a dry chemical fire extinguisher to Melba Bradley, while an elementary student looks on with interest.

Cheryl Tamblyn Makes Citizenship Tour

Richard Langner makes a deposit on that long awaited symbol of seniorship - a class ring.

Sandra, Pogo, and Jackie discuss sizes, prices, and styles.

It's a good thing they measure fingers instead of heads when we first get that touch of "senioritis."
Tommy Dameron is measured for that expensive little golden circle.

Have you ever cooked 100 pounds of spaghetti? Mrs. J. D. Nichols and Mrs. A. Sizemore (with the help of others) cooked and served spaghetti for the Seniors at Brookhaven Methodist Church on February 28, 1961. The money helped to finance the trip to New Orleans.

Who Wants to Wash Dishes?

Freddy Castleberry, Ronnie Shaw, and Walter Mims were too busy eating spaghetti to pose for this picture. Judy Carter, Melba Bradley, and Sarah Vandiver found time to eat a little between their chit-chat.

The Gang!

Beauvoir will always hold special memories for the seniors.

Beth Rives tells a soothing bedtime story while weary seniors look on.

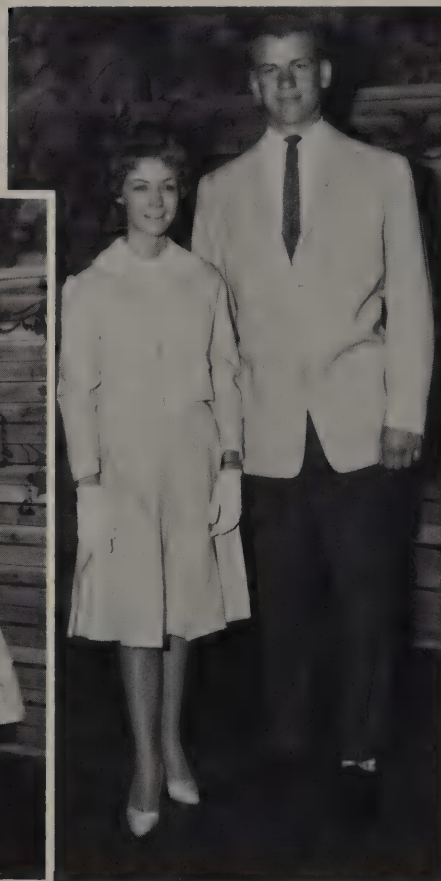

New Orleans Will Never Be the Same

Elizabeth Smith and Bobbie Burnett show their twin "slim jim" outfits.

Mary Richards, escorted by Lester Grantham, and Melba Bradley, escorted by Don Noel, model their gay spring dresses.

Betty Jean Evans, escorted by Wayne Hilley, models her three-piece suit.

Fashion Show Is Spring Highlight

Ann Vick, Opal Sanders, Bobbie
Burnett, Barbara Weir, and Gayle
Wilson are modeling their dresses which they made for the Fashion
Show in Home Economics this year.

These Eady Peady originals are modeled in our Fashion Show this year by their creator, Susan Eady, and her youngest sister, Janice.

That happy smile on Ronnie Nabors' face is there because he has just been presented the Sington trophy for the athlete with the highest scholastic average. Mr. Creighton Simpson presented the trophy.

MOUND STAFF

Highlights in Sports

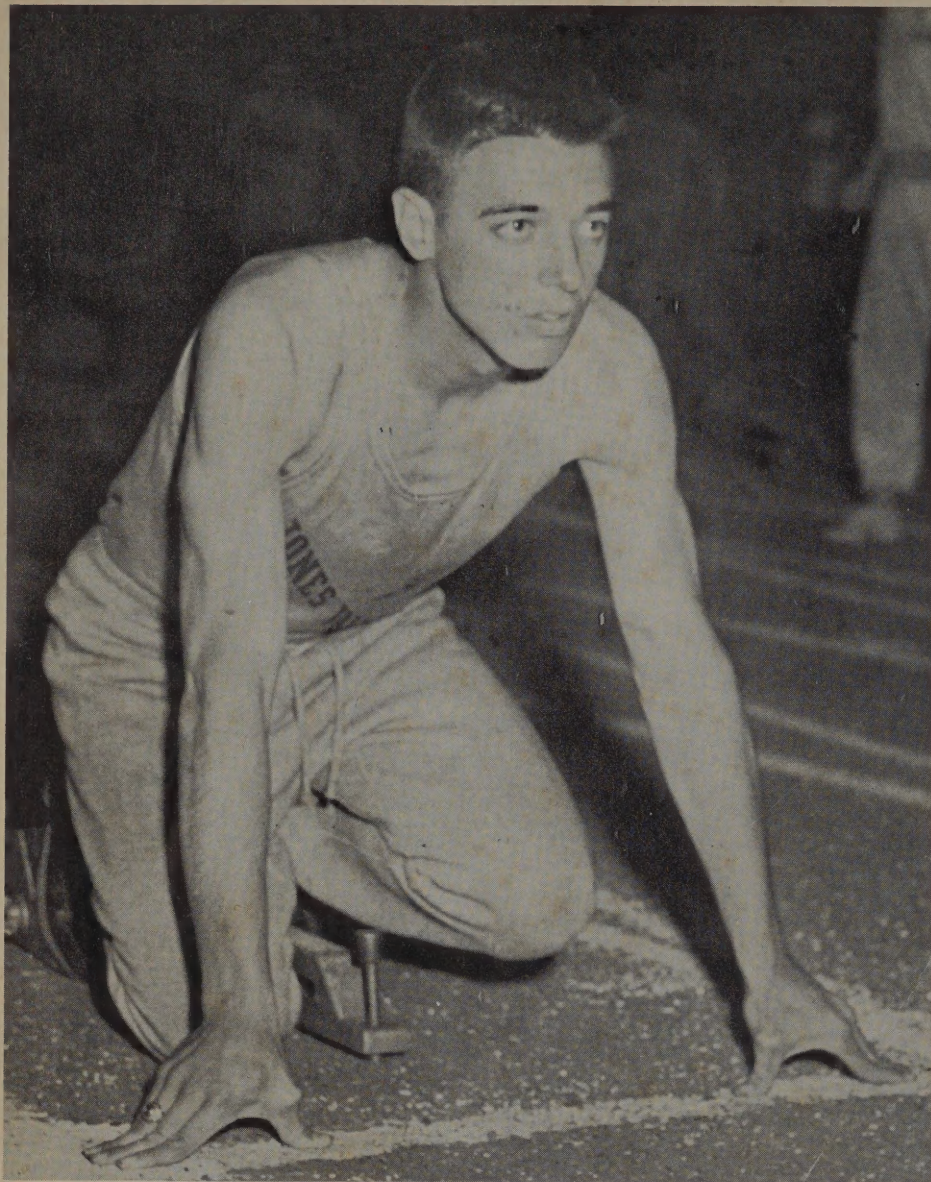

BASEBALL TEAM

ROW 1: Ronnie Nabors, Walter Mims, Johnny Cargile, Freddy Castleberry.

ROW 2: Kenny Hart, Paul Weston, Tommy Stafford, Jimmy Whitten, Jerry Little.

With no home field to practice or to play home games, the Brownie baseball team posted a 6 - 6 record.

Valley Track Star

In the Track Meet this spring, Tommy Farley won first place in the city, and was one of three best from the district. He runs the 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, and is anchor man on the 440 relay.

BLACK and GOLD GAME STARS

Bill Betts (center) and Tommy Stafford receive trophies as outstanding Lineman and Back in Jones Valley's annual intra-squad game. Aaron Sisemore, President of the Quarterback Club, makes the presentation.
